Dig Up Dolores Street?

"Mac" Should Sit In—

Glenn Clairmonte snagged an opinion this week from Henry Dreyfuss, nationally recognized expert on industrial design and director of the new planning commission for Greater Los Angeles, on what he considered an ideal plan for Carmel. (See interview on this page.) He suggested putting Dolores Street into lawn and cutting parallel alleys down the middle of the blocks facing Dolores Street for the convenience of the people who wanted to use their cars for shopping.

We are not very happy with the vision of Dolores street in lawn; we don't like any of Carmel in lawn. We like it best with its natural cover of pine needles, lavender blooming ceonothus, buck brush, and the other native shrubs that one finds growing on undisturbed vacant lots here and there throughout the town. On the other hand, closing Dolores street to traffic, and Ocean Avenue, as well, has always been our cherished dream. As for cutting alleys through the middle of the blocks bounding Dolores street — Fred Bechdolt, one of Carmel's earliest city planners, brings up the subject every time anybody discusses the perennial bugbear, the Dolores Street Jam. We have liked the idea, but have not tried to promote it because we felt that it wouldn't appeal to anybody else, and this isn't our season for tilting at windmills. However, now that Mr. Dreyfuss, an outsider, puts forward the plan, perhaps Carmelites may give it some thoughtful consideration.

But before we become seriously worked up over alleys for Dolores street, there is another matter to be considered. The city council is in possession of a budget of $52,000.00 for street improvement, and with that much money available, it looks as if, like it or not, Carmel is going to have its streets improved. In all fairness, some of the streets are in sore need of treatment, and we don't think anybody objects to having some work done on them, provided scenic attractiveness is not sacrificed in the process. But to keep Carmel streets passable and still retain their sylvan charm takes quite a bit of doing. Street improvement schemes invariably threaten trees and the winding country lane plan of our streets. Unless there is a great willingness on the part of the street improvers to compromise with the landscape, Carmel's main bid to beauty, her lovely, wooded streets, can be completely destroyed through a well-meant but ill-advised street improvement project.

There is one man who has had remarkable success in achieving the Carmel compromise in the matter of streets, P. A. McCreery. For a number of years he was street commissioner for Carmel. Thirteenth street was improved during his administration, and a prettier street would be hard to find. When he was street commissioner, he became acquainted with every curve, bush, and projecting

Whittaker To Ask Park Commission To Close Lobos To Picnickers; Will Urge Beach Recreation Area

Art Jermann and William K. Steffan, two elderly gentlemen from the east who are now making their homes in Watsonville, were arrested in Point Lobos Reserve by a park officer on Sunday, August 3, when they were found carrying cypress tree branches out of the park. They were arraigned before Justice Ray Baugh in Monterey and pleaded guilty to the charge of defacing the park, explaining they had not known the conservation law and had considered that the branches would make good decorations for their home. They were given suspended sentence.

The incident was the final aggravation to the Lobos League, which has been observing the over-use of Lobos throughout the summer with growing concern. The membership voted to send Francis Whittaker to the meeting of the State Park Commission in San Francisco today to urge that Lobos be closed to picnicking and fishing, in the hope that the additional restriction might thin down the number of people who are using the park. He will also ask that the commission consider the purchase of the shore line strip from Lobos to and including the mouth of the Carmel River for a recreational area, where picnic tables, fireplaces and other recreational facilities could be established without damage to vegetation and plant life.

Whittaker told The Pine Cone that the people are coming to Lobos in such crowds that plant life and natural cover is seriously threatened. Visitors are wandering off the trails, trampling and breaking the undergrowth. "Cypress Headland looked as if a herd of cattle had been over it last Sunday," Whittaker said. "If this keeps up, all the plant growth will be removed and there will be nothing to hold the soil in the teeth of the high winds that sweep the headland. The headland will soon be denuded."

He added that the League had hesitated for several months before making its decision to ask the state to turn the shore line area into a picnic and recreational area, since many local people would prefer to see it remain a primitive area as long as possible, but "when it is a question of saving Lobos, we feel that the people would be willing to make some sacrifice."

Dig Up Dolores Street And Plant It In Lawn Says Henry Dreyfuss, Expert On Industrial Design

BY GLENN CLAIRMONTE

Henry Dreyfuss, author of Ten Years of Industrial Design, who has reason to know exactly how to write such a book because of his own success in that field, has been staying at La Playa Hotel with his wife and—shshsh!—their little dog carried under a cloak. As the designer of many stage sets and industrial buildings, the Paris exhibit of the New York World's Fair, seven ocean liners, a 20th Century limited train, etc., Mr. Dreyfuss has probably contracted the habit of looking at everything with a planning eye. Since he flies across the country twenty times a year, while managing his New York and his Pasadena offices, he has an overall view of the transportation difficulties of this country.

"Right here on the Peninsula, you need helicopters already," he said. "Space in Carmel is limited and it is necessary for people to make better use of Carmel Valley. But without helicopters it is not practical. Even if you take the time to drive over that slow Valley Road, where will you park when you get here? The only thing that delays the general use of helicopters is the public's hesitation to demand them. Manufacturers will provide them as soon as the people insist, and with better distribution the cost of helicopters will be brought into line."

"But even with helicopters your parking problem will not be solved," he continued. "Already flying automobiles are being manufactured. They are actually motor cars with detachable wings—I have even ridden in one of them. But parking space is required if these come into general use. The Del Monte Properties Company is beginning to plan their space for the future, but what is Carmel doing?"

With this question Mr. Dreyfuss led himself right into the corner where the interviewer had meant to jockey him, and the question: "What do you suggest?" blossomed of its own accord.

Mr. Dreyfuss is a big, broadly smiling man in his middle forties, whose dark hair is sleek but curling at the same time, and whose direct eyes never had any relation to evasion. Therefore he picked up a pencil and nonchalantly began to draw a master plan for an ideal Carmel that would merit the consideration of any planning commission.

"What you ought to have," said Mr. Dreyfuss, "is a central shopping district surrounded by what is called a green belt—a park area across from which the residence section can begin to grow without the handicap of abutting on the less artistic back doors of shops. But here in Carmel that would be a difficult thing to accomplish, now that the town has already grown so far out of hand. As a remedy of the present evils there is, however, one thing which can be done."

"What?"

"Why not dig up Dolores Street from Fifth to Eighth Street, and plant it with lawns, so that shoppers can walk from one store to another across a level bit of landscaping?" he asked blandly.

For an answer he received only a gulp.

"Of course it would then be necessary for the town to procure space behind the Dolores Street stores for alleys," he admitted. "Cars could be driven through

Brazil Warns All Hunters To Keep Out Of Refuge

District Attorney Anthony Brazil issued a warning yesterday that anyone found firing a gun in the Monterey Peninsula Game Refuge will be arrested and prosecuted.

Owing to the Fish and Game Commission's ill-advised action in declaring an open season in the refuge, a number of so-called sportsmen have received the impression that they may kill the tame deer and other game within the refuge boundaries.

Phone Peter Before You Pave Your Driveway—Godwin

"Before you spend several hundred dollars paving a driveway connecting your garage with the street, call the street department or City Clerk Peter Mawdsley to find out if that street is going to be torn up for improvement in the next few months." Mayor Fred Godwin asked The Pine Cone to relay the above message to Carmel citizens yesterday.

The city council has been meeting in committee with state and county engineers during the week to discuss how they can co-operate in major street improvements for Carmel. Santa Lucia street will be graded, straightened and paved, and since it runs along the Carmel city limits line, the work will be done co-operatively with the county. Mayor Godwin noticed that several residents on Santa Lucia have gone to considerable expense to extend the paving of their driveways into the roadway and he says that there is not one chance in ten that when the engineers establish the grade for Santa Lucia, it will co-incide with the level of these driveways. With so much building going on in Carmel

Not only have youngsters been seen shooting over the Carmel River mouth marsh and along Highway No. 1 toward the Highlands, but evidence was found by Mr. and Mrs. Angelo Hewetson that a deer had been killed with a 12 gauge shotgun and cleaned on the lot where they plan to build their home in the Rancho Rio Vista Tract, not a mile from the heart of Carmel and within the boundaries of the refuge. The ping of rifle bullets has been heard around Jack's Peak, Del Monte Forest and even Pebble Beach!

Brazil says that since the Fish and Game Commission did not abolish the refuge, the refuge still exists. The commission's actions in declaring an open season in the refuge "doesn't mean a thing," he says, since it is in conflict with the other refuge laws still operative, namely that one may not use fire arms in the refuge and that the county peace officers are empowered to enforce refuge laws. Brazil has instructed the county peace officers to arrest violators. He urges that anyone finding hunters using fire arms in the refuge should report the incident immediately to the deputy sheriff, Monterey 4928 or Monterey 4121 so that the arrest may be made.

GETTING AROUND THE PENINSULA

By GLENN CLAIRMONTE

The French Government has presented the Carmel Mission with a plaque commemorating the landing of the French explorer, Captain de la Perouse, in 1786, on the shores of the Bay of Monterey, and a gala unveiling ceremony will be held September 14th at 10:15 a. m., to be followed by high mass at the Carmel Mission at 11:00. Dr. Raoul Blaquie of San Francisco, chairman of the La Perouse Committee, is assembling the French Colony of the Bay Region and the Monterey Peninsula for luncheon at the San Carlos Hotel, to be held under the auspices of the California Historical Society. Raoul Bertrand, consul general of France, will make a formal presentation of the plaque, and there will be other speeches and music on the program. One of the active workers on the French committee who is well known on the Peninsula is Madame Jehanne Bietry Salinger, the art collector.

Alfred Coons, for the last two years city manager of Pacific Grove, remarked yesterday that the council's approval of an ordinance designed to conserve the trees in the community has come as a culmination of many discussions.

The present ordinance, when passed, will require anyone in Pacific Grove wishing to remove a tree, on public or private property, to apply for a permit. The permit will be granted only when the removal of the tree can be considered as benefiting the public situation. Whenever there is doubt as to the wisdom of cutting a tree, the city manager is authorized to consult with a state forester before granting the permit.

The Mills College Players will present Fortunato, a translation of the famous Spanish comedy by The Brothers Quintero, at the Pacific Grove High School Auditorium, at 8:30 tomorrow evening. Dean Marian Long Stebbins, the director, will be present to introduce the players, and the proceeds of the event will go to the Woman's Civic Club of Pacific Grove, of which Mrs. Reginald Foster is president.

Mrs. Foster's daughter is one of the members of the cast. Recently this group appeared in The House of Alba and received favorable reviews in the newspapers of the Bay Region.

PINE CONE BOWS OUT OF P. G. TOURNAMENT

The Carmel Pine Cone softball nine tripped over the 526 Club of Salinas in their initial game of the P. G. tourney and were abruptly eliminated from further play. The 526 Club played heads-up and steady ball, while the locals had one of their poorer nights. Although the Salinas club earned only one run, the Pine Cone team committed 4 miscues to give them three more. Lester, 526 hurler, had the Carmel hitters at his mercy and chalked up a no-hit game. The locals scored their lone tally in the first frame when Gordy Miyamoto scored from first base on an infield error. The Salinas center fielder committed grand larceny against Ky Miyamoto in the first inning by running a country mile into right field and hauling down Ky's sure home run.

Tomorrow night the Pine Cone will meet the classy San Francisco Ayooob softball club in a double header at Sunset Field. First tilt will start at 8 and will be followed immediately by the second fracas. The Ayooobs boast the best record of any softball team in Northern California and are favorites to cop the State tournament.

PINE CONE BLANKS THE CASTROVILLE DONS

Behind the steady hurling of Ky Miyamoto, the Carmel Pine Cone softball nine defeated the flashy Castroville Dons, 5 to 0, last Saturday night at Sunset Field. Ky struck out 13 Castroville swingers and had the contest well in hand throughout. Although the locals garnered but 4 blows off the slants of Bob Smick, they employed the bunt very effectively and forced the Don infield to commit 4 miscues which turned into Pine Cone runs. The usually reliable Don infield blew up in the fourth frame and looked faintly reminiscent of a typical Abalone League infield.

The visitors threatened to score in the first frame when Joe Smick, Don shortstop, hit a rousing triple into deep center field to open the inning, but Ky bore down on the next three hitters and retired them via the K route.

Gordy Miyamoto, Gene Ricketts, Harold Studevant, and Don Gibbs were the only ones to garner hits off Bob Smick. Studevant connected for a triple in the third inning but was thrown out at the plate on an attempted squeeze play.

This was the sixth meeting between Castroville and the Pine Cone, and the series now stands 3 for the locals and 2 for the Dons. One game was a deadlock when neither team could score after 12 innings of play.

Short score: R H E
 Castroville Dons 0 3 4
 Carmel Pine Cone 5 4 0
 Batteries: Castroville: Bob Smick and M. Bellone; Pine Cone: Ky Miyamoto and Joe Nicholson.
 Umpires: Del Monte, Pryor, Turner, and Weimann.

LIONS ROUT FIREMEN, 9 TO 1

The snappy Lions Club softball ten continued to dominate the Adult league play last Friday night, when they hung a 9 to 1 shellacking on the game, but out-classed Firemen. The smoke-eaters were unable to solve the tricky pitches of Paul Clemens and had to be content with 2 hits. The scrappy Lions took a liking to the offerings of Kenny Roberts and lashed out 13 solid base knocks. Manager Cook showed his charges the way to wield the willow by collecting a trio of blows. In a big fourth inning the clubbers racked up five counters on a like number of hits. Joe Nicholson provided the fielding gem of the evening by dashing deep into center field to pull down Kenny Roberts' tremendous drive. 'Tis rumored that, because of this sterling play, Joe is in line to become a cub Lion.

Short score: R H E
 Firemen 1 2 3
 Lions Club 9 13 1

KELSEY'S LEGIONNAIRES CLUB KELSEY'S POLICE

It took Jim Kelsey's gang of hard-hitting vets just one inning to establish their superiority over his dad's Police softball ten last Thursday night. The Legion racked up 4 runs in the initial frame when the first four batters scored. Ivan was determined to give the Legion a run for the game and even imported two cops from Monterey to bolster his local aggregation.

The Police pecked away at Kelsey's slants until they accumulated 9 blows, but they were good for only 3 runs. Jim was especially stingy in the pinches and received some flashy support from his mates. Ballard, one of Carmel's finest, took over the hurling chores for the law enforcers and held the potent Legion sluggers to a scant 4 knocks. With a little better support in the field the victory could easily have gone to the Police. The way the Police are rigged now they will be a threat to any team in the league.

Box score: R H E
 Police 3 9 5
 Legion 6 4 1

FIREMEN WALK TO VICTORY OVER WILDER & JONES

Ten damaging walks, most of them in the sixth inning, proved the downfall of the favored Wilder & Jones softball team Tuesday night. The score of the ball game was 17 to 13, and everything happened that can happen in a ball game. Runners tried to steal bases that were occupied, circus catches were made all over the place, a one-legged pinch hitter tried to save the game for W&J, a ball was hit on top of the school house and the hitter was held to two bases, and everybody made errors except the umpires, who are always right.

The plumbers started out with a smashing 7 run attack in the first inning before the Firemen could don their boots and hats.

The smoke-eaters finally got the fire under control and had scored 7 runs for themselves by the fifth inning. Going into the bottom of the seventh frame, the plumbers were in front, 9 to 7. At this point DeAmaral lost control and the Roberts-led firemen produced hits at opportune times. When the inning was over the score read—Firemen 17, Wilder & Jones 9. Orville Jones' cohorts tallied 3 counters in the last inning but the damage was too great to repair.

Louie Holzhauser, plumber left fielder, was the big gun in the W&J attack and contributed a sensational catch to round out a good evening's work. Louie combed the slants of Ken Roberts for 3 blows in 4 attempts and crossed the platter for a trio of markers.

Gilbert-Sullivan Great Fun At Forest Theater

By NANCY LOFTON

I can think of no reason for not calling the current Gilbert and Sullivan performances in the Forest Theatre one of the best evening's entertainment offered in Carmel in some time. That's a broad statement, but the company has bounce and gaiety and good diction, direction and costuming, and, as a result, the performances have been delightful. It's Patience we're having tonight, and the Mikado tomorrow.

Mr. Bell and Mr. Kuster, who are presenting the American-Savoy Company in the week long season, apparently know their Carmel. They know the combination of Gilbert and Sullivan and the Forest Theatre is like sugar water to a fly. The people who find it romantic to sit blanket-bound underneath Carmel's stars, while a creeping chill as from the tomb starts up the legs about nine forty-five—and it is romantic—and that large group which can be drawn even from a sick bed by Pinafore or Patience or Pirates of Penzance, and in addition, that large Carmel audience which seems to turn up with complete consistency, at lectures on philosophy, Chinese cooking demonstrations or fire-drills—have all been unusually rewarded by the Gilbert and Sullivan performances. The performances have been and are excellent. The house has been almost completely filled although there are still seats available.

The cast has no weak spots in it. Each role is filled well and the productions move with good pace, excellent timing and much amusement for everyone. The irreverence and satire of Gilbert and Sullivan's operas are good fare. The high point of a week with three excellent performances already to its credit should be the presentation of the Mikado Saturday night.

Orchestra To Give Concert At H.S. On August 25

Arrangements were announced today by John Farr for an informal concert to be presented at the Carmel High School music room, on Monday evening, August 25, at 8:00 p. m. by a group of twenty-five players, all members of the Monterey County Symphony Orchestra. This concert which will be open to the public and will present selections from the popular classics is the culmination of weekly rehearsals which have been held under the direction of Mr. Farr during the summer months for the benefit of members of the regular orchestra and a few new players who wished to keep up their work in anticipation of the reconvening of the orchestra as a whole in the autumn.

The prospective concert was announced at a recent meeting of the board of directors of the association, held at the home of B. Franklin Dixon in Carmel. Members of the board present were: B. Franklin Dixon, Noel Sullivan, Mrs. Cyde Dyke, Mr. and Mrs. Eben Whittlesey, Peter Ferrante, Daniel, and Lorel McCann, co-conductor with Clifford Anderson of the symphony orchestra. Mr. Anderson, who has just returned from vacation, was unable to be present. The directors were entertained with informal refreshments served by Mrs. Dixon after the meeting.

Business of the meeting included an encouraging report on the fund drive being conducted by Mrs. Muriel Simpson.

Mr. McCann and Mr. Anderson plan to contact by mail all former members of the orchestra in preparation for the resumption of rehearsals, which will begin within the next few weeks. It is hoped that from two to four concerts will be presented during the forthcoming year. All persons interested in the orchestra as players are urged to contact Clifford Anderson in Monterey, or Lorel McCann at the Salinas Junior College.

Carmel Woods Area Asks Annexation To Sanitary Dist.

Dale Leidig, chairman of a committee of Carmel Woods residents, will present a petition signed by over 200 names of property owners for annexation of Carmel Woods to the Carmel Sanitary District, at the regular meeting of the trustees Monday night at Sanitary District office on Dolores Street.

The signatures represent owners of 80 percent of the property in the area and only 75 percent is required to make possible the annexation of the entire district, according to Shelburn Robison, attorney for the petitioners.

At the meeting, C. C. Kennedy, engineer for the sanitary plant, will be in attendance to answer questions regarding the capacity of the sanitary plant to handle the additional burden that will result from annexation. A county health officer will also be present to answer questions.

(Continued from Page One) pine tree in Carmel streets, and learned to love them as well, we suspect. He is no longer street commissioner, but he is chairman of the planning commission.

It is surprising to us that the city council did not ask the planning commission to work out the over-all plan for the contemplated street improvement since it would seem to be an item that would naturally fall in the planning commission's province. But since the city council prefers to keep the street improvement plan in its own hands, the planning commission should at least have a representative at the committee discussions, and who better could serve in this capacity than the commission chairman, P. A. McCreery?

We, for our part, should feel less uneasy about an over-all street improvement plan for Carmel if we knew McCreery were present at the discussions to say "No" in the right places.—Wilma Cook.

the alleys to allow customers to enter the rear doors of the shops, rear doors which in themselves should be designed to welcome the public. Besides space for alleys, which would be a responsibility of the town, the private owners of the stores should provide parking space.

"Granted," Mr. Dreyfuss went on, "this would necessitate confiscating property along San Carlos and Lincoln Streets, but some arrangement might be made whereby the present owners could be promised a share of the newly parked area which is now Seventh Avenue—for, of course, Seventh Avenue too should be dug up for several blocks in order to make a green cross to beautify the shopping district."

About this time Mr. Dreyfuss, who is at present director of the new planning commission for Greater Los Angeles, working on an opera house and the biggest arena in the world that are supposed to formulate a daring new style in civic centers, remembered that he was in Carmel on vacation. He tucked his pencil into his pocket, apologized for using so much paper, and turned his attention to enjoying scenery and climate before returning south.

Joy Wescott, Dick Taplin To Jr. R. C. Camp

Two delegates leave today for a twelve day session at the American Junior Red Cross training Camp Center at Camp Celio, Nevada City, California. Mrs. Francis B. Foraker Junior Red Cross Chairman of the Carmel Chapter of the Red Cross announced.

They are Joy Wescott and Richard Taplin, both students at Carmel High School. Joy is a member of the Senior class and Richard a Junior. Both young people are well known in the community and recognized leaders in student activities.

Approximately 150 members of Junior Red Cross from 57 Chapters in California and Arizona have enrolled for the course in leadership and recreational training offered by the Red Cross. Student delegates are selected by local Chapters in preparation for assuming leadership responsibilities when schools reopen in September. Students receive instruction and participate in various of the Junior Red Cross program under trained adult leaders.

The training camp located at Camp Celio, will be directed by Floyd A. Carpenter, Pacific Area Junior Red Cross assistant director. The faculty is composed of twenty youth leaders experienced in specialized Red Cross services, including leadership, nutrition, home nursing, First Aid, accident prevention and water safety.

In addition to work on special projects and general instruction on organization, juniors will have opportunities to enjoy swimming, boating and other recreational activities at the center. This is the second year that the Junior Red Cross training center has been conducted at the Camp Celio site. A similar training center was held at Benbow Lakes, Kaposin, Washington, July 14-26, at which 112 juniors were registered.

First Fall Field Trip For Audubon Members Sunday

Bird lovers will meet at 7:30 Sunday morning at the foot of Monte Verde Street, near the Mission Ranch, for observation of the fall migrations until about noon. Robert E. Peck, president of the Monterey Peninsula Audubon Society, has arranged for this special summer field trip, and Laidlaw Williams, chairman of research committee for the society, has agreed to lead.

Dr. W. A. Angwin, treasurer, will be prepared to renew memberships or take applications from new members for the 1947-48 season, at $1.50 a year. Mrs. Isabelle Terhune, secretary, is now taking reservations for the five-lecture program to be given by the Society during the winter and spring, at which colored motion pictures of wild life will be shown by nationally known speakers.

Here comes Handsome!"

BREATHES there a man with soul so dead he doesn't relish a little open admiration from the sidewalk?

Can you name us a male, modest though he otherwise be, who fails to get a secret bang out of public appearances with a creation as gorgeous as this one?

Well, you need only take charge of this beauty for a while to see how much, much more it does for you than flatter your masculine ego.

Touch off the eager power in its eight big Fireball cylinders and see how your pulses start pounding.

Swing back the top with a touch on the handy control — run up the door windows as windcreens — and feel the spirit of adventure start welling up in your soul.

Head out where you can match this Buick's easy stride against the stretching miles. Route yourself where ruts and gravel can pit themselves in vain against the flawless gentleness of fluid, all-coil springing. Get the sweet feel of this light and easy wheel — sample the heft and size of this ever-steady traveler.

In truth, here's the sort of playmate a man can spend a lifetime seeking. Here's good friend, boon companion, lively, dependable, eager partner for any frolic or any traveling task.

So why delay longer the time when you can call one yours? Reach a decision now on your long-range planning — and see us about getting your order in.

We'll take it, with or without a car to trade, and make equal effort in either case to make your dreams come true at the earliest moment in our power.

8. All other trades not hereinabove mentioned to receive wage prescribed for that particular craft or type of workman.

9. All labor to receive time and one-half for overtime, double time on holidays, unless otherwise specified. The hourly wage prescribed hereinabove is the per diem rate divided by the aforementioned number of hours constituting a working day.

10. Any person making a bid or offer to perform the work, shall, in his bid or offer, set forth the name and the location of the mill, shop or office of each subcontractor who will perform work or labor or render service to the contractor in or about the construction of the work or improvement and the portion of the work which will be done by each subcontractor.

11. If a contractor fails to specify a subcontractor for any portion of the work to be performed under the contract, he shall be deemed to have agreed to perform such portion himself, and he shall not be permitted to subcontract that portion of the work except under conditions hereinafter set forth.

12. No contractor whose bid is accepted shall, without the consent of the awarding authority, either:

- Substitute any person as subcontractor in place of the subcontractor designated in the original bid or
- Permit any subcontract to be assigned or transferred or allow it to be performed by anyone other than the original subcontractor, or
- Sublet or subcontract any portion of the work as to which his original bid did not designate a subcontractor.

13. Subletting or subcontracting of any portion of the work as to which no subcontractor was designated in the original bid shall only be permitted in cases of public emergency or necessity, and then only after a finding reduced to writing as a public record of the awarding authority setting forth the facts constituting such emergency or necessity.

14. The Board of Trustees of the Carmel Unified School District reserves the right to reject any and all bids and/or waive any irregularity in any bid received. Unless otherwise required by law, no bidder may withdraw his bid for a period of thirty (30) days after the date set for the opening thereof.

INESITA, celebrated gypsy dancer who scored in concerts at the Opera House, San Francisco, last season, is featured in Fiesta Espanol, gala program of Spanish dances and music, at Sunset Auditorium on the nights of August 21, 22 and 23, under the management of Margaret Poole and William Walker.

Mary Hamlin

Mrs. Mary LeCount Hamlin, one of the original owners of the Sun Dial Court Apartments on Monte Verde and Seventh, died at her home, August 12, after a brief illness. She was a native of Auburn, New York, and had resided in Carmel for the past 35 years. She is survived by two sons, E. E. Hamlin of Syracuse, New York, and C. A. Hamlin of Arlington, Virginia, and a sister, Mrs. W. D. Bevin of Carmel.

Private services are being held this morning at 11 o'clock in the Paul Funeral Chapel, the Rev. A. B. Seccombe of All Saints' Church officiating. Cremation will follow. Friends are requested to omit flowers.

Willie Woodson

Willie Woodson died Monday in the early hours of the morning, at his home, 789 Oak Street, Monterey, after a long illness due to a heart ailment. Willie and Cleo Woodson have operated Ella's Southern Kitchen for three years and have made many warm friends in Carmel. Most of these friends have never even seen Willie Woodson because he was always busy in the kitchen, but there was an intangible something that pervaded the little restaurant on Dolores street that drew more than patronage from those who went there. They will hear of Willie's death with regret and will miss him.

Willie Woodson was born in Lancaster, Texas, forty years ago. He is survived by his wife, Cleo, and two cousins and an uncle in Texas. Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at Paul's Mortuary in Pacific Grove, the Reverend W. F. Bailey of the Baptist Church, officiating.

Joyce Morris Wins Another Prize For A. L. Auxiliary Essay

Joyce Morris, the Carmel seventh grader who won first place in the American Legion Auxiliary Americanization Essay contest last May, has this week been awarded first prize for her essay, in competition with the other twenty-five essays presented by other auxiliaries in the district which extends from Palo Alto to King City. The judges were members of the American Legion from Santa Cruz and other cities north of here.

The essay was published in The Carmel Pine Cone for May 23 and exhorted young people to take cognizance of their world responsibilities at the second anniversary of the inauguration of the United Nations.

Recreation Program Activities

By GEORGE MOSOLF
SWIMFEST AT LA PLAYA RANCH POOL MONDAY

Through the courtesy of Fred Godwin, Carmel boys and girls will have a big swimfest at the La Playa Ranch pool on Monday, August 18. Last year, when the sun was quite a stranger, weekly treks were made to the La Playa pool and the kids well remember the good times that were had there. Part of the afternoon will be devoted to a swimming meet, but there will be ample time for recreational swimming.

Help will be needed in the transportation department and parents who are taking their cars, and have an extra seat, please stop at Sunset School and pick up a passenger. Transportation will leave Sunset School at 12:30 on Monday, and youngsters who do not have a ride are asked to report at the bleachers on the softball diamond. The swimfest is open to elementary and high school boys and girls, and parents who transport youngsters are welcome to a nice cool dip. For information about the swim trip telephone George Mosolf, 1634-J.

Next week winds up the Carmel Unified School District Summer Recreation Program which has provided so many hours of enjoyable play and recreation for Carmel children and adults. Supervisors of the various activities have invited the parents to come with the kids and see what they have been doing all summer. Starting off Monday morning at 10 o'clock, the Hildebrand sisters present their very popular and highly entertaining puppet show. This clever performance is held in the Sunset library and lasts slightly more than an hour. Parents are very welcome to come with the sprouts. Boys and girls from 4 to 12 years of age make up the audience. Each Monday from 55 to 95 children have been entertained by this fine show.

At 10 o'clock, Monday through Friday, Mrs. Grace Howden's swimming pool is the site to witness a lot of swimming activity. Grades 3 to 7 participate in recreational swimming and swimming instruction. Over 100, Carmel sprouts have learned to swim at the Howden pool during these sessions. Swimming instruction is given on three levels; for those who cannot swim; for those who can navigate a little; and for those who desire to learn the advanced strokes. Carmel parents and the youngsters are deeply grateful to Grace Howden for her extreme generosity in granting her swimming pool to the recreation program.

At noon on Monday, Leo Kohler hovers over his tennis band at the high school courts. These sessions have developed some future tennis stars for Carmel and have given a host of youngsters expert tennis instruction from the best teacher in Northern California. These lessons are available for all age groups. Leo also has a class on Thursday from 12 to 2.

Activity shifts to the Sunset Playground at 1 o'clock, where Jim Blee and Janice Noy hold forth. Miss Noy assists the youngsters in creative work, painting, arts and crafts, etc., while Mr. Blee conducts the playground activities. Games of all varieties are available at the playground and all age groups can find something to do. This popular spot has been attended by over a hundred participants each afternoon.

Mr. Byrne takes over at the Howden swimming pool at 2 o'clock where youngsters of high school age splash, dip, and dive. Advanced swimming instruction is given at this session and much individual assistance rendered by Mr. Byrne.

Softball provides a wealth of passive and active recreation at Sunset Field each night from 7 to 9:30. Carmelites of all ages and both sexes have enjoyed many evenings of play under the brilliant arcs. A league for kids has developed many future softball stars who will cavort for adult teams in the future. The Adult Summer league has been more popular than ever and has been attended by good crowds. For a faster brand of softball, the Carmel Pine Cone has brought the best softball teams in Northern California to Carmel. Several of the Pine Cone games have been witnessed by over a thousand fans.

At the high school gym, John Westover supervises basketball sessions on Monday and Wednesday nights. High school and college players have engaged in some red hot games during these meetings. Playing hours are from 7:30 to 9:30.

Tuesday afternoon from 12:30 to 3:30, Ruth Allerhand conducts her creative dance classes at the Sunset library. Girls from preschool to college age have availed themselves of Miss Allerhand's wealth of creative dance knowledge. This group also meets on Thursday at the same hours.

In the high school gym at 7:30 on Tuesday and Thursday evenings the increasingly popular badminton classes are conducted by Ted Fehring. From a meager beginning these classes have increased to 25 or 30 participants. Both sexes, from high school ages to adults, participate in these sessions.

Each Wednesday night from 8:30 to 11 a teen age dance is held in the Sunset library. Most of the participants attend the Wednesday night softball game and then adjourn to the library for an evening of dancing. Ruth Allerhand supervises the dances and gives professional instruction in social dancing to those who want help.

Evelyn Nidever Hildebrand conducts her entertaining and educational Song and Story Hour at 10 o'clock Friday morning. For sheer enjoyment and active participation this activity is hard to beat. Age groups from 4 to 10 are included in these sessions, and Mrs. Hildebrand invites parents to bring their youngsters for the final meeting on Friday. The Song and Story Hour is held in the Sunset library.

CARMELO PRESS BUREAU

Berenice Korshet, who puts out jet-propelled publicity, and Photographer George Cain have just put their brain-child, Carmelo Press Bureau, on the doorstep of the Peninsula. They will spread the lure, beauty and advantages of the new Carmel Valley communities over the pages of the papers of the country.

R. Walker

Rutherford Hayes Walker, who made many friends in Carmel during the years he had the shoe-shine stand on Ocean Avenue, died at his Pacific Grove home, August 11, after suffering from a heart ailment for a number of months. He was born in Lafayette, Alabama, 70 years ago, and came to the Monterey Peninsula in 1906, at the time of his marriage. He was past master of Monterey Masonic Lodge 46 and past patron of Carmelita Chapter 38 Order of Eastern Star.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Minnie Davis Walker, five sons, all of Los Angeles, and two daughters, Mrs. Elizabeth Mayes and Mrs. Letitia Lee McSween, both of Pacific Grove. The Paul Mortuary made arrangements for the funeral service.

Mr. Walker served as chef of the Centralia Hotel and the Hotel Del Mar in Pacific Grove in his youth, but later he opened his shoe-shine stand in Carmel, where he continued business until two years ago when he retired because of failing health.

The Frontier Is The Limit Of Your Sight; Life Has Returned To Frontier Conditions—Canon Warren

By L. LUCILE TURNER

A condition which will profoundly affect the future of the world, a condition which Americans must face, is the terrible hunger which prevails throughout Europe and Asia today, Canon Mack Warren of England told the members of the Missionary Education conference at Asilomar early last week. Canon Warren came over as a representative of the English church at the International Missionary Council, meeting at Whitby, Canada, early in July, after which he came west to the conference on the Monterey Peninsula.

The speaker began by pointing to the paramount influence upon United States history of the frontier, which always marked the country's advance. The geographical frontier has reached the Pacific ocean, and we are preoccupied with the conditions on our own doorstep instead of the wider horizon of the world. "The frontier," he said, "is always the limit of your sight. Life today has returned to frontier conditions with its fundamental simplicities. It is a battle for survival in the world, with food the primary need." Saying that most of the world is physically starving, he pictured the weakness and malnutrition prevailing among the peoples of Europe, conditions so severe that well-fed Americans can hardly conceive of the dire hunger.

Two delegates on the ship with Mr. Warren were so weak when they came aboard that they could hardly walk. They were ministers from the church in Germany which had boldly resisted the Nazis, and they had spent the war years in concentration camps. But in the two years since the German surrender they still had insufficient food and were weak and emaciated. The days on board ship with abundant and nourishing food made new men of them, and in Canada the improvement continued. "They were fine men," said the speaker, "and we all loved them."

Starvation is desperately widespread in the world, he continued. Millions will die during the coming year, among the permanently undernourished of India and of China. Those who manage to survive may be so spiritually maimed by their privation as to bring disaster to the rest of the world. The frontiers are aflame, a challenge to Christian people in a world of conflicting ideas. The Christian churches of all countries are facing enormous organisms that are antipathetic to the Christian way of life, and civilization will be profoundly affected; it may be decided in eighteen months. "The wilderness trail lies ahead for America, and for others as well. We must see the problem as a whole and go forward."

The conference at Asilomar numbered persons from all the Pacific coast states, Idaho, Montana, the Middle West and the East Coast, as well as the English divine and a Belgian army chaplain assigned to the Congo. In all, 358 were registered, not counting those who dropped in for one meeting or took a single meal in the big dining hall. This was the thirty-fourth annual meeting of the interdenominational organization.

Carmel Scenes In New England Art Exhibition

Among the 32 paintings comprising the one-man show of Gracelyn Everett Goodyear, San Francisco artist, which will be on view August 19 through 24 at the Gafney Library, Sanbornville, New Hampshire, are a number done in and around Carmel.

Selected for hanging have been a view of the Carmel Mission, the Carmelite Monastery, Carmel Bay and the houses along the waterfront from Cypress Point; a picture entitled simply Stone House, Carmel; and several landscapes in the Carmel Valley.

The area has always been a favorite of Mrs. Goodyear and she is enthusiastic about introducing it to New Englanders. Advance reaction to the forthcoming show indicates that New Englanders are equally interested in acquainting themselves with the California scene and the work of California artists.

along the Coast to Oregon. Mrs. Tocher, who recently sold The Covered Wagon, is taking this opportunity to enjoy the companionship of her family.

Have You Read . . . ?

BY GLENN CLAIRMONTE

Modern Woman, The Lost Sex, by Ferdinand Lundberg and Marynia F. Farnham (Harper.)

The Pooch, by Ross Santee (Cosmopolitan Book Corp.)

At first you will be surprised to notice that these two books are discussed in the same breath, but please read on, for they are offered as a balanced diet.

The first is being mentioned by readers who wonder if it may yet be true that human nature can really be changed. It was written by a psychiatrist and a social worker who had access to the sick minds of a great many sick individuals. They have besides dug into history to discover other sick subjects, whom they use as examples to prove that all the world is sick today.

Not understanding the devious ways of woman, these writers do not realize that she has been challenging man to become more masculine when she has taken on masculine poses. They do not realize that woman wanted to leave the home and go into business merely because that was where man could be found—and in so doing she was proving how normal she was as a hunter after love. They do not realize that it is not modern woman whom they should indict, but rather modern man, if he has not accepted the challenge to exercise his own masculinity. After all, everything is relative, especially sex.

These writers seem to be ignorant of the fact that woman seldom uses the direct route to attain her ends, and they claim she envies the physical attributes of man when she places herself in the way of attracting attention. Surely they are thinking of abnormally unattractive women when they make such a statement: they need only look about them to recognize that the average woman flaunts her pride in her own curves.

The second book is the antidote, because it is documentary proof that masculinity still throbs in the breast of man. It is the life story of a wire-haired terrier who met fair ladies and loved them for the sake of sweets and pleasant smells, but who was raised by hardy ranchers and lion-hunters. Among these he found none of the femininity which could frighten the psychiatrist and the social worker. In fact their love of a good fight could never bring the effeminate world-peace that the writers of The Lost Sex claim can be attained by the natural allotment of sex among men and women. Without giving any attention to the worries of the psychologist, the men in The Pooch went about being themselves with the vigor which remains unseen by the student in a laboratory. After reading about the joyous wrangling among these men you will begin to feel that maybe the race hasn't lost its virility, after all.

It is a long way from Mary Wollstonecraft who, the writers of The Lost Sex tell us, set the world off in the wrong direction because of her contradictory notions. But the devotion of The Pooch to the cowboy, who can do a man's job and still have energy left to explode, is something of today. We are in the midst of the reality where men are men and dogs (not to mention women) worship them. It is more healthful for the population to turn to the normal exuberance of these than to fasten upon the contrary minority who try to suppress their impulses without understanding why. More powerful than a dose of worry about how quickly the world is going into a decline can be the reading of a down-to-earth chronicle which contains more life than the neurotic scrutinizer of neurotics has ever suspected of existence.

For those of you who have been reading the first book mentioned above, remember that the second is prescribed. If it should quicken your sense of humor you will not be the loser. If it should enliven your faith in the normalcy of modern men and women you may find life a little bit gay.

AUTUMN SONG

*I love to walk a windy lane
With storm clouds in the offing,
With brown leaves whirling at my feet
As braggart winds go scoffing.*

*A vagabond with sun for bread
And winy wind for meat . . .
The taste of summer in my soul
Is permanent and sweet!*

—HARRIET MILLS MCKAY.

COMMUNION

*When I, disintegrated quite,
Am a grain of the mold
I lie on and my ear is right
For every stirring told
By the wombed root fed by the ground,
By the sap of the tree,
The insect's muted breath of sound,
The bird's tautology,
The rabbit's pipe, the quail cock's drum,
The squirrel's high complaint,
The whirr of wings, each wood-born hum
And rise, however faint,
I am aware of every pore,
At one in bone and blood,
For I now hold the pulsing core,
The full beat of a wood.*

—ALEX R. SCHMIDT

PATHS OF TRANQUILITY

*Come back once more to tread the lane
Where men and women walk contrite,
To feel again the lost embrace
Of tenderness and warm delight.*

*When grief maneuvers through the dawn
To vanquish joy without a star,
A neighbor's love and care will come
To cut the darkness where you are.*

*When plans for gain are torn apart
And coins of silver drift away,
Then dreams become an empty hope
To leave your heart in stark dismay.*

*You can revive your wounded life
With balm that fills the rustic air,
And pause before the glow of Fall
To warm your aching spirit there.*

—EDNA JAMES KAYSER.

Days Before Yesterday

The question, Who is to have final possession of Carmel, animals or man? was raised in the Pine Cone for June 17, 1938 (not so long ago, after all) in a front page story about animals invading the town and its environs.

At 3 a. m. on that date Patrolman Earl Wer-muth heard night prowlers at San Antonio and Tenth and, in spite of the fact that coyotes and skunks were no rarity in that wooded region, he was considerably surprised, upon investigation, to uncover a doe and a fawn who resisted arrest and retired to remoter woodlands before he could summon assistance.

On the same day Bill Post of the Big Sur came home to his cabin at Mule Canyon and found his castle had been entered by an unwelcome stranger, a brown bear. Indignantly he shot the interloper, probably in self defense, and sent the hide to a San Jose taxidermist. He invited all his friends to an excellent barbecue, and the feasting was at its most hilarious point, when uninvited appeared officers of the Fish and Game Commission. The hide had been confiscated, and the bear meat was taken out from under the ol-factory members of the guests whose appetites had been aroused but not yet satisfied. The explanation given was that the brown bear was never native to the coast region (where the grizzly bear had been long ago exterminated) and, since it was one of three species introduced to the district, it deserved a different brand of hospital-ity.

The Pine Cone then ran a circumspect editorial:

"DO WE NEED A JAIL?"

"As we get it, this fawn and its mother, a doe, were trespassing on private property in Carmel, probably in a flower garden, contrary to the law made and provided, and against the city ordinance governing trespass. A regular authorized police officer, after ordering the fawn and doe to move on, attempted to use such force as necessary to make his orders good, when the fawn kicked him somewhere on San Antonio Avenue.

"Where else he was kicked, or how often, we were not informed, but it seems no arrests were made. Carmel has neither a jail nor a zoo. The fawn was operating without a license and without tail lights. Tests for intoxication were not given.

"Whether or not this incident, and the further fact that two bears have recently been seen and one shot down the coast, will necessitate the installation of a Zoological Garden in Carmel is a matter to be taken up by the Park Commission."

No Zoological Garden has as yet been inaugurated here, and still there is daily evidence of trespass by our furred and feathered poor relations. Residents who dare to approach too close to certain trees at Ocean Avenue and Dolores, often engrossed in love letters obtained at the post office, are sometimes attacked by blackbirds who swoop from the nests they are protecting. They tangle their wings in flying hair and use dive bomber tactics on bald heads, quite effectively driving the pedestrians out of the way of motor as well as blackbird traffic. It is all in a spirit of good clean fun, the bird lovers claim, but others recommend the wearing of heavily upholstered goggles to those who value their eyes.

The daily occurrence of squirrels along Ocean Avenue is a wonder to tourists, but a matter of habit to residents. Some suspect that the police department plant the little beasts here especially to encourage the observation of speed laws for motorists. While a squirrel takes his time to drag a twig across the Champs Elysees of Carmel (as Phil Nesbitt has called it), automobiles line up patiently, waiting for an opportunity to pass. The squirrel, evidently aware that it would cost a motorist a $500 fine to dispute his right of way, usually stops in the middle of the street to scold the motorists, chattering away about "Carmel isn't what it used to be with all you people crowding around," or words to similar effect.

Garden Wedding

Under a magnolia tree in the garden of Palisades Ranch in the Carmel Valley, home of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Miles Leoni, the wedding of Mrs. Leoni's son, Seth Powers Ulman, and Sylvia Halma was solemnized at 3 o'clock last Sunday afternoon. An altar had been set up, covered with a piece of old Italian brocade, and on either side was an antique urn that had come from an old church in Florence, Italy. Clusters of gladioli and sprays of orange blossoms were massed about the altar, where the Reverend Alfred B. Seccombe of All Saints' Episcopal Church read the ceremony.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, Frederick Halma, wore a bouffant gown of white organdy and a wide picture hat. She carried a bouquet of white daisies. The wedding march was played by Guy Snell, who also played during the reception and buffet supper that followed the wedding. The dining room was charmingly decorated with white flowers and the table which held the bride's and the groom's cake was laid with an embroidered and lace cloth.

Wedding guests included members of the families and their intimate friends. From San Francisco came Mr. and Mrs. Howard McGurran and their daughters, Heide and Alexa, also Donna Dusmet de Smours. Guests from Berkeley were Mr. Leland Davis, who stood as best man, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Harris, Mrs. William Fassett with her sons, Griffiss and Frank. Mr. and Mrs. Hoyland Bettinger, who live at Palisades Ranch, assisted Mrs. Leoni in the wedding arrangements.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Halma. Mr. Halma is professor of sub-tropical horticulture in the University of Southern California. She has just graduated from the University at Berkeley, where she was active in the theater program and Berkeley Players Guild, and member of Mask and Dagger, honorary drama society. She is also member of the Juniors of Music Arts Society. Mr. Ulman, instructor in the drama department at the University of California, is the son of Mrs. Nelson Miles Leoni and grandson of the late Frank Powers. He was graduated as a Phi Beta Kappa from the University of California and served for two years in the Army Medical Corps in Italy. The young couple will spend a short honeymoon in Carmel before returning to Oakland, where they will make their home.

Sacramento Herons Here

Bill Heron, his wife, Jean, and their two daughters, Patty and Laurie, came from Sacramento last Saturday to spend a week in Carmel with Bill's father, Bert Heron.

Mrs. Purple, Visiting Daughter

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kreisler have as their guest Mrs. Kreisler's mother, Mrs. S. Maus Purple of Los Angeles. On Saturday, Mrs. Kreisler entertained with a patio luncheon in her honor. Her guests were Mrs. Jim Burgess, Mrs. Nat Freeman, Mrs. Thomas Minturn, Jr., and Mrs. Gene Bray.

Going Places

Bright and early next Monday morning Mrs. John W. Dickinson and her sister, Mrs. Guy Jordon, will leave for an extended trip. First they go to the Salmon River Mountains in Idaho, where they will visit Mrs. Jordon's son Robert and his family. From there, they go to Kimberley, British Columbia, to visit their brother, Ernest Moss, who is publisher of the Kimberley News, on to Victoria, B. C., where they will stay at The Old Charming Inn, and be with Miss Alma Ederly, formerly of Carmel, and also look up Mrs. Florence Greatwood, another Carmel friend. They will be gone about six weeks and during their absence, Mrs. Stella S. Mather, a former Carmelite, sister of Mrs. A. C. Hughes, will occupy their home. John Mather with his wife Lila, are bringing Mrs. Mather from her home in Long Beach, and will remain in Carmel a few days, renewing old acquaintances, before returning to their home in Texas.

Simmons-Lacy Wedding

Small but beautifully appointed was the wedding of Charlotte Simmons and Dan E. Lacy, which took place last Sunday afternoon at the Church of the Wayfarer, with Dr. K. Fillmore Gray officiating. The ceremony was solemnized before the altar, decorated with masses of white chrysanthemums. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, Mr. Bert Joseph Simmons, wore a smart gray wool tailored suit with gray accessories and a corsage of white orchids. Miss Bonnie Pickard of Berkeley, a former classmate and sorority sister, was the bride's attendant. She wore a pearl gray suit and a corsage of Rebrum lilies. Dr. R. P. Maddux of Fresno, cousin of the bride, served as best man. Both the groom and best man were in naval uniform. Mrs. Simmons, mother of the bride, was gowned in French blue and also wore Rebrum lilies. Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the Simmons' attractive adobe home on Carmelo. Miss Simmons, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Joseph Simmons, has spent her summers in Carmel since the family moved here four years ago. She is a member of the faculty and Senior class advisor at San Mateo High School. A graduate of the University of California, where she received her M.A. degree, she is an alumna member of Mortar Board, Prytanean, Theta Sigma Phi and the Guild of Applied Arts, and of Alpha Delta sorority. Dan Lacy received his B.S. degree from the University of Idaho, and his M.A. from the University of California. During the war he served as Lieutenant Senior Grade in the Navy in three theaters of war. He is now a member of the physical education department and baseball coach at San Mateo High School. Mr. and Mrs. Lacy will be at home in San Mateo after September 1.

Our favorite letter to you

Starts like this: "We will soon have facilities to care for your telephone service" . . . So far this year we were able to send out these letters to thousands of people—provide 125,000 more telephones for Western homes and businesses. But meanwhile thousands of new orders came in, which await their proper turn.

If you're waiting for such a letter, we want you to know we're speeding this year's record-breaking construction program for the Pacific Coast States . . . new buildings, central office equipment, wires and cables . . . about two hundred million dollars worth of the things needed to bring service to everyone who wants it.

New Working Dollars . . . Millions of new dollars needed to build buildings and buy new equipment to meet the public demand for more telephones and more service do not come from telephone bills. New dollars come from people who are willing to put their savings into the business. We must earn enough to attract these new working dollars.

NEW BOOKS...

THE HARDER THEY FALL by Budd Schulberg, author of What makes Sammy Run?

Budd Schulberg knows the prize fighting game intimately. He tells an absorbing story of the career of a modern Samson, first created, then betrayed, and finally destroyed by Philistine connivers. It is a story of violence, of evil and yet of understanding, of pity and even of the beauty of high fury.

CALIFORNIA IN OUR TIME 1900 - 1940 by Robert Glass Cleland

With this new book Dr. Cleland has completed the useful and entertaining work that is unquestionably the best history of California written for the general public. The first volume "From Wilderness to Empire," covered the story of California from 1542 to 1900. In this second volume is the whole story of one of the most vivid phenomena of American life. The author writes persuasively and well of politics, graft, reform, the Mooney-Billings case, the Los Angeles boom, the Chinese, the Japanese, the Mexicans, and the Oakies, and all the other serious and frivolous people and elements that together have made California one of the most interesting regions in the world.

... today's best bargain

Remember when you first plugged in your refrigerator? It started right off with a whirr and has continued to run and run and run. And through the years it has stored tons of food, keeping it safely and appetizingly cold—it has frozen hundreds of pounds of ice.

Yes, your refrigerator like so many of the electrical servants working for you, gives wonderful service. And the best part of each of these many services, is their low cost. Your refrigerator for example, runs and runs for a variable cost of fifty cents to one dollar a month. Or that 60 watt lamp, that was left on all night, would add only one cent to your electric bill.

"Life is better in California"—and one reason is, because electricity is so cheap and every home can afford to use many, many dependable electric servants. Your electricity, delivered to you by good reliable P. G. and E. service, costs less than it did before the war. With most all other items in the cost of living going up and staying up, P. G. and E. electric rates have gone down 16 per cent since 1939 and stayed down.

With Nancy Lofton

This continued from last week item concerns LA DAME ROSE, where, on the ocean side of San Carlos between Fifth and Sixth, in addition to Thelma Tilson's corsets, you will find, laid most enchantingly on top of the Victorian oak chests, under the ormolu cupid on top of the clock, which strikes 87 times, and before the fireplace of pressed, marbelized, steel (the manufacture of which is a lost art) you will find, as we were saying, the wares of Harriet Adams, who brings beautiful scarves and blouses and slips and petticoats and handkerchiefs to complete the merchandise at LA DAME ROSE. Miss Adams has petticoats with lace trimmed hems, and Dickies, and simple blouses for wearing under sweaters, and gored slips, and gowns of slipper satin; in short, a complete line of lingerie, which looks particularly fetching among the flowers sent for the shops' opening.

The region has been combed to bring delicacies to MAC'S POULTRY SHOP on San Carlos between Fifth and Sixth. From Hollister Mr. Mac receives young frying turkeys of a medium size and an extreme tenderness and succulence. From Marina come young Belgian hares for frying, and from Soledad and Watsonville come Cornish game chickens crossed with New Hampshire Reds, which, cross produces an eating chicken beyond comparison. A young roasting turkey, a mere five and a half months old, can be yours for sixty cents a pound. He will weigh about twelve or fourteen pounds and he will be delectable, and a call to 1492-J will reserve him and kindred fowl for you at MAC'S POULTRY SHOP.

A sale where you may buy summer clothing for children begins Monday at THE CARMEL KIDDIE SHOP on Ocean down from Dolores. The sale will include some dresses and suits up to size fourteen, and will last through August. Playtex and Latex pants may be bought for fifty cents, and prices on other items such as fur animals and dresses and playsuits should prove equally interesting. All these summer things must leave to make room for the new fall line at the shop, which will include dresses, suits and coats for children up through the early teens. Incidentally, you can buy Birdseye diapers at THE CARMEL KIDDIE SHOP.

In THE STOCKING SHOP in the Golden Bough Court on Ocean you may find a wicked black cocktail slip with peekaboo lace and a slit skirt to show just a little more of your elegant stockings—also from THE STOCKING SHOP, of course. There are some very nice half slips, in white or black, woven of multifilament rayon which is the finest type of rayon made. These slips have an elastic band at the top and a scalloped lace or net band at the bottom.

If you'd like a deep red dress smoked in white for your dark-haired grandchild or a pale blue party dress for a pale-haired girl, you may order one, beautifully and durably smocked by hand, from the two young ladies who are showing their beautiful clothes for well dressed children in P. NESBITT'S ARTIST'S WORKSHOP in the Golden Bough Court. The arm holes and the hems of these dresses are wide and deep, and the workmanship is fine, and such a dress will please a small girl for years.

Just having a dress which was designed by Claire McCardell is not perhaps sufficient reason for going off to school, but a school girl will certainly have her best foot forward if she wears a Claire McCardell original, such as the new arrival at THE CINDERELLA SHOP on Ocean Avenue. This suit is made of Juilliard Zephyroy, which is a soft corduroy whose brilliant softness of color and texture lasts through either laundering or dry cleaning. This is a high fashion that will wash. The full soft pleated skirt, the wool jersey top and the corduroy jacket come in shades of rich brown and autumn tomato and are beautiful and wearable. There's another three-piece Claire McCardell design in a soft basket weave woolen in heather tones with the free swinging graceful lines and the fine and original details which make Claire McCardell clothes warming to the heart of the girl who wears them.

At MAXINE'S on Dolores fall fashions are coming in with longer skirts and curved hiplines which should prove a blessing to us all. The colors of Lynn Lester's gabardine coat dresses for fall are rich and glowing. In peacock or gray there's a model with a wide skirt and double pockets, and in shrimp pink there's a coat dress with a nice full back and handsome flange shoulders. It's the sort of dress that's easy to get into and hard to take off by reason of its comfort and color. In French flannel there's a beautiful full pleated skirt in yellow, which has, of course, a fitted bodice with plain and simple lines to give the skirt more emphasis. MAXINE'S clothes for fall look exciting and romantic with their rich colors and feminine lines.

Canning with a Burpee cooker should be a miracle of ease. A Burpee cooker is a pressure cooker capable of processing seven quart jars all at once, and for $24.40 you may buy one at THE CARMEL HARDWARE STORE on Dolores. The cooker is absolutely safe and effective and has positive safety valves. It is easy to operate—the food, vegetables, fruits or meats are packed cold, placed in the cooker, processed and that's all.

A well made blouse for $3.95 is a bargain, and the most expensive blouse in the group of Graff and Cameron of California blouses at PUTNAM AND RAGGETT costs only $3.95. One of the blouses by Graff is made from a new ever-fast cloth which may be ironed dry and subjected to practically anything without fading. Another Graff blouse in broad stripes comes in a rayon fabric like the finest batiste. The Cameron blouses are striped in multicolor or printed in all over designs. Some in seersucker and other cottons, some in rayon and all washable. The blouses are well and handsomely made, bearing a close inspection, and the fabrics are good to behold.

Mrs. Ramona Gahl entertained a group of neighbors and friends Monday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Loy of Guthrie, Oklahoma, who have been her house guests for the past two months. A feature of the evening was a showing of their kodachrome slides of Carmel and vicinity by Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Shurburne.

Those invited were Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan M. McIndoo, Mr. and Mrs. M. K. Zillman, Dr. and Mrs. Blanchard Steeves, Dr. and Mrs. L. A. Williams, Colonel and Mrs. G. W. Stuart, General and Mrs. D. C. Cubbison, Ferdinand Bergdorf, Miss Sophie Bergdorf, Mrs. Helen Cranston, Vida Harber, Mrs. Martha Newcombe, Mrs. Ann Vaughan, Mrs. Louise Hegstrom, Mrs. W. S. Batterman, Mrs. J. K. Garnett, Mrs. Dorothy Blanks, and Mrs. Lillian Grieve of New York City.

Last week Mrs. Gahl and her guests drove to San Francisco and San Rafael, where they visited relatives.

Mrs. Foraker's Guest

Miss Patricia O'Brian of Los Angeles is spending ten days as the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Francis R. Foraker.

Off To Monte Toyon

A group of young people from the Church of the Wayfarer leaves tomorrow to attend a Christian Adventure camp at Monte Toyon, near Aptos in Santa Cruz county. With Mrs. Audrey Larson as counselor, the group will leave by cars tomorrow noon. Those who will be attending the seven day camp include: Mary Adams, Renee Bedau, Schatzi Herron, Susan Johnston, Myrna Lea Sutton, Carol Timbers, Sherman Larson, and Judy Ann

Neikirks Are Grandparents

Mr. and Mrs. John Neikirk received word Tuesday morning that they are grandparents of a boy, born to George and Margaret Straub, in Boise, Idaho. The youngster weighed seven pounds and eight ounces. George Straub and his wife left Carmel in May for Boise, the former home of Mrs. Straub, where George is now in the insurance business. He has many friends in Carmel where he attended school and later graduated from the University of California.

The Bradley Girl

Mr. and Mrs. William Bradley became the parents of a seven pound, twelve ounce girl August 7, at the Community Hospital. The baby has been named Suzanne. Mr. and Mrs. William Bradley have been residents of the Peninsula for the past three years. William Bradley was sent to Korea with the military government but has returned and is now in San Francisco with the United States Department of Agriculture. Mrs. Bradley came to Carmel from Boston and was married at the Presidio Chapel.

Hot Dog

Joan and Virginia Carr were hostesses at a barbecue Saturday night, given in honor of Jean Latner of Des Moines, who with her mother is visiting the Carrs. Those who enjoyed the affair were Jacqueline Work, Sue and Joan Dekker, Sue Moore, Ginger Klein, Joan Gorham, Teddy Greene, Marilyn Miller, David Davidson, Bill Moore, Fred Barber, Bill Rissel, Bob Weer, Don Day, Martin Irwin, Bud Prindle and Steve Zellerbach.

From Stockton

Mrs. Joseph Dietrich and her family have arrived from Stockton and are spending the month of August at the country home of Mrs. Dietrich's mother, Mrs. T. F. Baxter. Mrs. Baxter returned last week from Piedmont, where she was visiting her son, Dr. Philip Baxter, and his family.

Mrs. Taubles Able To Travel

Mrs. G. W. Taubles, who has been in the hospital and confined to her apartment for months with a broken hip, left yesterday for Los Angeles, where she will visit friends.

Travel With Dogs and Trailer

Miss Marcia Haskell and Mrs. L. E. Surber left on Wednesday morning for a three months' trip. They are motoring east with a trailer and their two Cairn terriers. Their objective is New England and the Autumn foliage.

Author of "Army Wife" Here

Mrs. Nancy Shea spent a brief vacation in Carmel, staying at La Playa Hotel. Mrs. Shea's books, Army Wife, Navy Wife and the WAC Book had quite a vogue during the war and now Harpers are publishing a post-war edition in which Mrs. Shea is bringing the service wives up-to-date. Mrs. Shea is now living in Los Angeles.

Guests At Holiday House

Miss Eugenia Davis of Phoenix, Arizona, and Miss Margaret Campbell of San Francisco were recent guests at Holiday House. Miss Davis was the first woman in the United States to become Clerk of the Supreme Court in which capacity she served the State of Arizona for twenty-five years. Miss Margaret Campbell has also retired after being with the Standard Oil for twenty-five years.

Mrs. Sarah Carr Here

Mrs. Sarah Carr, who has been spending her summers in Carmel for a long time, has arrived from her home in Pasadena and is at Lobos Lodge. Last summer Mrs. Carr missed her Carmel visit for a trip to England to see her daughter.

Gone To Tahoe

Joan Carr, who has just returned from New Canaan, Connecticut, has gone to Lake Tahoe.

Month At Yosemite

Pat Wescott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Wescott, is spending a month at Yosemite National Park with friends.

Visiting In San Francisco

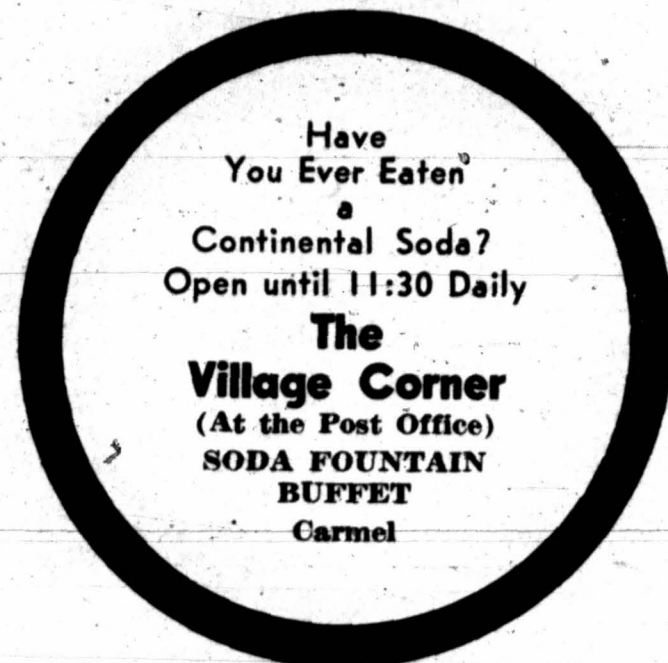

Mrs. Joan Mitchell Jones left Carmel the last of the week, driving to San Francisco, where she will be the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Florence Mitchell.

Chinese Delegate To Nurses' Meet Is Highlands Visitor

For the recent International Nurses' Convention held at Atlantic City, with 37 countries participating and 7,000 nurses in attendance, the delegate chosen from China was Miss Vera Y. C. Nieh, who is now in the Highlands as the guest of Dr. and Mrs. Henry Spencer Houghton. She looks as delicate as a doll, but there is unsuspected strength behind her mild smile.

Miss Nieh is the president of the Chinese Nurses' Association and also head of the nursing school of the Pekin Union Medical College, one of the most elaborate projects of the Rockefeller Foundation. At the 24th biennial world convention of nurses she was a member of the board of directors and attended all executive sessions as well as the professional meetings. President and Mrs. Truman entertained them in the White House and they made a pilgrimage to Hyde Park to meet Mrs. Roosevelt and to pay their respects at the grave of the late president.

Miss Nieh speaks a pure English with colloquial ease and explains that her first visit to this country was in order to study at Teachers College, Columbia University; her second for enrollment at the University of Michigan, and her third visit, now, has netted her new inspiration as well as exchange of valuable information at the convention.

"In England a nurse's training does not include any obstetrical work because there are special schools for midwives who handle only confinement cases," she said. "In other parts of the world, however, it is considered wiser to employ nurses who have had some of the study which composes the midwife's course but also a more general knowledge of the care of the sick. The adaptation of rules followed in one country is not always possible in another country. However, this exchange of ideas enriches us, and especially we hope that through our profession we can advance international understanding."

Miss Nieh's fourth visit to this country may be in 1949 when she will perhaps go through here on her way to the golden jubilee International Nurses' Convention in Sweden.

Upon Miss Nieh's return to China the latter part of September she will resume her duties as head of the nursing school of the Pekin Union Medical College, with sixty selected college women to follow the course for the coming year. She will open the 350-bed hospital made possible by the recently increased appropriation of the Rockefeller Foundation. The college buildings, whose green porcelain tile roofs, red pillars and marble

PROTECT FORESTS

Imagine America without lumber.

Lumber and forest products are essential resources and yet the average forest area burned over annually is equal to the land area of the New England states.

This appalling waste recurs year in and year out—an average of 200,000 forest fires every year.

Forest fires involve a public interest far beyond the immediate money values destroyed. They affect future timber supplies, water flow of rivers, soil erosion and such recreational uses of forest areas as fishing and hunting.

It is shocking to learn that 90 per cent of all forest fires in the U. S. A. are caused by man's carelessness. Shocking but true.

A yearly average of 41,300 fires alone are attributable to smoking. When you are in the woods:

1. BREAK EVERY MATCH IN TWO AFTER USE.

2. IF YOU MUST BUILD OUTDOOR FIRES, FIRST ASK IF THE LAW REQUIRES A PERMIT.

3. DROWN EVERY OUTDOOR FIRE WITH WATER, OR SMOTHER FIRE WITH EARTH FROM WHICH THE LEAVES ARE REMOVED.

4. CRUSH OUT THOROUGHLY YOUR CIGARETTE, CIGAR OR PIPE ASHES.

5. SEE THAT EACH MEMBER OF YOUR FAMILY KNOWS THESE RULES.

Fire Marshal Robert Leidig.

floors make full use of traditional Chinese architecture, cover 15 acres. Until occupation by the Japanese the institution was conducted by a faculty of more than 200, all Chinese graduates of the college with the exception of two Hollanders and two Americans in the medical department and one American in the nursing school.

"It had always been the intention to train Chinese citizens to carry on the work of the college with the help of funds from the Rockefeller Foundation," said Miss Nieh, "and the excellence of the work done by graduates quite fulfilled the original plan."

During the war, after the occupation, Miss Nieh dressed herself in the garb of a peasant and without baggage walked humbly through Japanese sentry lines, explaining when questioned that she was going to the fields to visit some relative. Many of her student nurses managed to do the same, and separately they travelled 2,000 miles by whatever conveyance offered, until they crossed the Yellow River and were thus in Free China. Then they gathered in the Province of Sze Chuan, where they affiliated themselves with the West China Hospital. There Miss Nieh continued the direction of her nursing school without interruption in spite of the war and removal over a distance of 2,000 miles.

Miss Nieh's host in the Highlands, Dr. H. S. Houghton, was director of the Pekin Union Medical College from the date of its dedication in 1918 until the Japanese converted the plant into a military hospital for their own purposes. At that time he was imprisoned and was kept incommunicado for four years. Miss Nieh was acquainted with the Houghtons for all the formative period of the P. U. M. C. and throughout the difficulties of the war. She boards the S. S. President Meigs, at San Francisco, September 5.

Bay Players Not Coming To Carmel, Never Intended To

The San Francisco Bay Players will not present The Infernal Machine here in the Forest Theatre August 29, 30 and 31. They never had any intention of doing so, though Mrs. Norma McHardy requested the use of the Forest Theatre for the group from the city council last Wednesday, and received permission to rent the Theatre on those dates.

An indignant telegram arrived Friday addressed to City Clerk Peter Mawdsley which said, "It is with complete amazement I read in today's Pine Cone report of City Council's meeting August 5th, quote, Two other applications for use of the Forest Theatre this fall were granted—and San Francisco Bay Players' presentation August 29th, 30th, and 31st. Mrs. McHardy is a representative of the latter company unquote. I am business manager of the San Francisco Bay Theatre. Mrs. McHardy acted with no authority and is in no way connected with this theatre. I sincerely hope that the use of the Forest Theatre will be confined to local producers. Heatedly and respectfully, Carmalita Benson."

At the same meeting Mrs. McHardy brought down on her head the wrath of Carmel old timers and theatre enthusiasts by requesting a year around lease of the Forest Theatre for a commercial stock company.

SIDNEY ROGER'S TALK

"Hope of the world is in the American ballot." That was the keynote of the talk that Sidney Roger, the news commentator, made last Friday before the Women's Democratic Club of Carmel. If anyone expected any fireworks from Sidney Roger, they were disappointed. His talk was a cool, dispassionate analysis of problems confronting this country and the world. He believes whichever party frames a platform that will really appeal to the American people, with candidates that pledge to live up to the platform, will win the next election. "The future of our own country and the world will be determined by American policy," said Mr. Roger. As an example he cited the economic crisis in England, which has been aided and abetted by the enormous rise in prices here, cutting down the buying power of our loan to Britain. A lively discussion followed his talk but there was no disagreement, voiced by the large audience in the Girl Scout House. —M. N.

Gustav Frederick

Gustav Frederick, a wood carver of fifty years of age, who had resided in Carmel for the past two years, died of a heart attack Tuesday afternoon while busy in the Abinante Music Store at Seaside, where he owned a concession. Funeral arrangements are being made by the Mission Mortuary pending instructions from relatives in New York.

Many Carmel landscapes which Mr. Frederick painted since coming here are being held for possible sale when his heirs are located.

Going To Mexico

Mrs. J. J. Harrington, Seventh and Carpenter, and her daughters, Joan and Ruth, are leaving soon for a three weeks' trip to Mexico.

Birthday For Gary

Gary Appleton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dewitt Appleton, celebrated his eleventh birthday recently with a party and a new bicycle, and altogether it was a most successful anniversary. Enjoying the party were Ina Adams, Carol Goodrich, Micky Koroslev, Merle Pittman, Paul Duval, and Ronny Adams.

Birthday Barbecue

Newton Goodrich and Donald Canham celebrated their birthdays Wednesday evening with a barbecue supper given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Newton Goodrich on Junipero street. Grilled steaks with all the trimmings and a big cake blazing with candles made everybody happy. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Canham, Yvonne Goodrich, Lee Winslow, Carol Goodrich, Melvin Goodrich, and the hosts.

Legion Auxiliary Bulletin

American Legion Auxiliary, Carmel Unit 512, will honor Past-President Helen Berkey with an informal dinner, Wednesday, August 20, at 7 p. m., to be held at Cademartori's banquet room. For transportation and reservations, which must be made by August 15, call Chairman Betty Leslie, Carmel 1462-R, or Secretary Mausita Kreisler, Carmel 1051-W.

Talked It Over

A group of Southern California participants in the recent Carmel Bach Festival met Saturday evening, August 9, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Horton, North Hollywood, for a barbecue dinner and a chance to talk and reminisce about the Festival and its high spots. Colored motion pictures taken during the 1946 Festival were shown. Among those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Roland Maxwell (Muriel Rogers), Mr. and Mrs. Mackey Swan, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Garnett (Eula Beal), Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Vennard, Dr. Irene Robertson, Blythe Taylor Burns, Margaret Christman, Doris Kroman, Ralph Linsley and Thomas Clark.

Guest Of Mrs. LeMaistre

Mrs. Barbara Robson, cousin of Mrs. Irene LeMaistre, who came over with her from England on the Queen Elizabeth last October, was her guest last week. She was entertained at luncheon at the Valley Inn, a picnic at Point Lobos, driven up the Big Sur and enjoyed a performance of Distant Drums. Mrs. Robson is now making her home in San Francisco.

Down From Reno

Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Nelson of Reno arrived in Carmel Monday to visit Mr. and Mrs. John Farr. Mrs. Nelson is Mrs. Farr's sister.

LIONS ENJOY BARBECUE

The Carmel Lions Club was entertained at La Playa Ranch Tuesday evening by Mayor Fred Godwin at a steak barbecue, at which Al Fry officiated. Besides the feasting the main activity of the evening centered around the swimming pool. Needless to say there was a record attendance.

Tea At Book Sellers

Members of the cast of the Gilbert and Sullivan Opera Company will be honored guests at a tea given at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon at the Carmel Book Sellers. Bette Sanderson, Edgar Ivorsen, Virginia Blair, Wauneva Bell, Marsdon Argall, Everett Nygaard, and Henri Scanlon will be there, and the Book Sellers will be assisted in introducing them to the public and serving tea by Mrs. Martha Staver, Mrs. Harriet Allen, and Mrs. Katherine Allen.

Rowles-McCandless Wedding

Lee Rowles and Robert McCandless will be joined in holy matrimony Sunday at 5 p. m. at the Church of the Wayfarer, the Rev. Dr. K. Fillmore Gray officiating. All their friends are invited to attend.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

"Soul" is the subject of the Christian Science Lesson - Sermon for Sunday, August 17, with the Golden Text taken from Isaiah: "Lo, this is our God; we have waited for him, and he will save us: this is the Lord; we have waited for him, we will be glad and rejoice in his salvation" (25:9). The following citations are included in the sermon:

Psalms: "The Lord hath prepared his throne in the heavens; and his kingdom ruleth over all" (103:19).
"Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "KINGDOM OF HEAVEN. The reign of harmony in divine Science; the realm of unerring, eternal, and omnipotent Mind; the atmosphere of Spirit, where Soul is supreme" (p. 590).

CHURCH OF THE WAYFARER

"That We May Be What We Seem to Be" is Dr. K. Fillmore Gray's sermon theme for the two identical services on Sunday, at 9:30 and 11 a. m. Miss Margaret Sherman Lea will be at the organ. The two sections of the Church School meet during the services: young people from the fourth grade and upward at 9:30 a. m., and children from kindergarten and the first three grades at 11 a. m.

The Youth Fellowship convenes at 6 p. m. with Hugo Bedau in charge of the meeting for high school and college-age young people.

HIGH SCHOOL GRIDDERS TO PRACTICE MONDAY NIGHT

Football is just around the corner and Carmel High School grid aspirants aim to be ready when the school bell rings, September 10. Monday night, August 18, has been set for the initial workout at Sunset Field. Players will assemble at 7 p. m. and will spend an hour working on preliminary fundamentals of passing, receiving, punting, and offensive formations. As league rules forbid issuing of uniforms until school begins, the only equipment needed by players will be shoes.

The Padres have an ambitious nine game schedule coming up this fall and must be in condition to open the season on September 19. Besides the nine game varsity schedule, the limited gridders will take the field for six battles. The limited team was formed for the first time last year, and proved so successful that it has become a regular part of the athletic program. This team provides an opportunity for many more boys to gain the values inherent in the game of football.

Additional practice dates will be announced when the squad meets Monday night.

TABLE-TENNIS TOURNAMENT

The third annual table-tennis tournament will be held in Pacific Grove at the Boy Scout House, August 22, Phil Cordrey in charge of arrangements. They will be four classes, 15 years and under, 18 years and under, adults and women. The tournament is Peninsula wide and all Boys' Clubs are urged to enter as well as the general public. Information about the contest may be procured at any of the local sporting goods stores. There will be lots of prizes donated by sporting goods stores and local merchants.

Tuesday evening as a result of a warrant for his arrest on a charge of borrowing Syd B. Hall's 1941 Chrysler for a few minutes and leaving town with it, after crashing into Mahar's plate glass show window on Ocean Avenue. The special investigator of Fort Ord turned him over to the Carmel police department after he was found to have been absent without leave. His bail was set at $2,000. The car was returned to Mr. Hall undamaged.

Dr. Williams Wants Full Time Librarian For Carmel Schools To Build Up Exceptional Library

An exceptional library system for Carmel schools is envisioned by Dr. L. A. Williams, school board member, who described some of his ideas of what a school library should be to Superintendent Stuart Mitchell at the monthly meeting Tuesday night. "Speaking as an individual member. Understand that I am not speaking for the board as a whole." But the rest of the board—or at least as much of it as was attending the meeting—Harold Nielsen and Martha Moller, agreed heartily with Dr. Williams.

The discussion grew out of the question as to whether or not the high school should have a librarian, or continue with the old arrangement of having various teachers spell one another "tending" library during their free periods. Dr. Williams pointed out that provision had been made in this year's budget for a librarian and if one could be obtained, even at this late date, she should be hired for this term. "A librarian is not just a keeper of books," Dr. Williams pointed out. It is her responsibility to choose the books for the library, according to the needs of the age group her library serves. She would be needed at Sunset as well as at the High School, and when the new neighborhood schools are built, she could be of assistance in dispensing the books for the new units. "The neighborhood schools will probably not have libraries, but each class room will have shelves of supplementary reading appropriate to the lower elementary grade level." The librarian's work would also include care and dispersal of the supplementary learning aids material—phonograph records, movie film, etc.

The board instructed Superintendent Mitchell to hire a librarian if a suitable one could be found.

Other business was the decision to buy the Bert Dienelt piece of property to complete the south side school site for $16,500. The board agreed to pay for materials to lengthen the back stop along first base at the Sunset School night softball field in view of the fact that Street Commissioner Charles Childers had promised that the street department would install the screen.

It approved a raise from $7.50 to $8.50 per day for school bus transportation by Joe's Taxi Service to and from Pebble Beach.

Superintendent Mitchell was authorized to attend the school superintendents' convention in Sacramento October 1, 2 and 3.

The following letter, addressed to the school board, was read:

"I want to let you know that I am fully aware of what perhaps you realized when you used your excellent judgment in selecting Mr. Richard Hagadorn for head of your art department.

"He is the most outstanding high school art teacher that I have had experience with, and I have had frequent contacts with high school art departments. He not only meets all the requirements in his dealings with us, a portion of the public, but his attitude toward the students certainly brings out a fine response from them in matters of courtesy, co-operation and general relations with us people, which, after all, is perhaps a finer art than the one he is teaching.

"Sincerely,

"Nelly Montague, Curator,
"Carmel Art Association Galleries"

at present, he is afraid that other residents will go to the expense of paving work that will have to be done over if their street comes into the major street improvement project. Hence he issues the warning.

Another street that has priority for improvement is San Antonio from Ocean to the Pebble Beach gate.

Louise MacDougal

Mrs. Louise F. MacDougal, wife of Dr. Daniel T. MacDougal of Carmel Highlands, died August 9 at the Peninsula Community Hospital of a heart attack at the age of 85, after several weeks' illness. She is survived by her husband, by a sister, Mrs. S. Mossgrove of Urban, Ohio, and by a cousin, Mrs. George Hilton of Carmel. She was a native of Cincinnati and had been living in Carmel for the past 24 years.

700,000 Acres Burned Over In Valley Fire

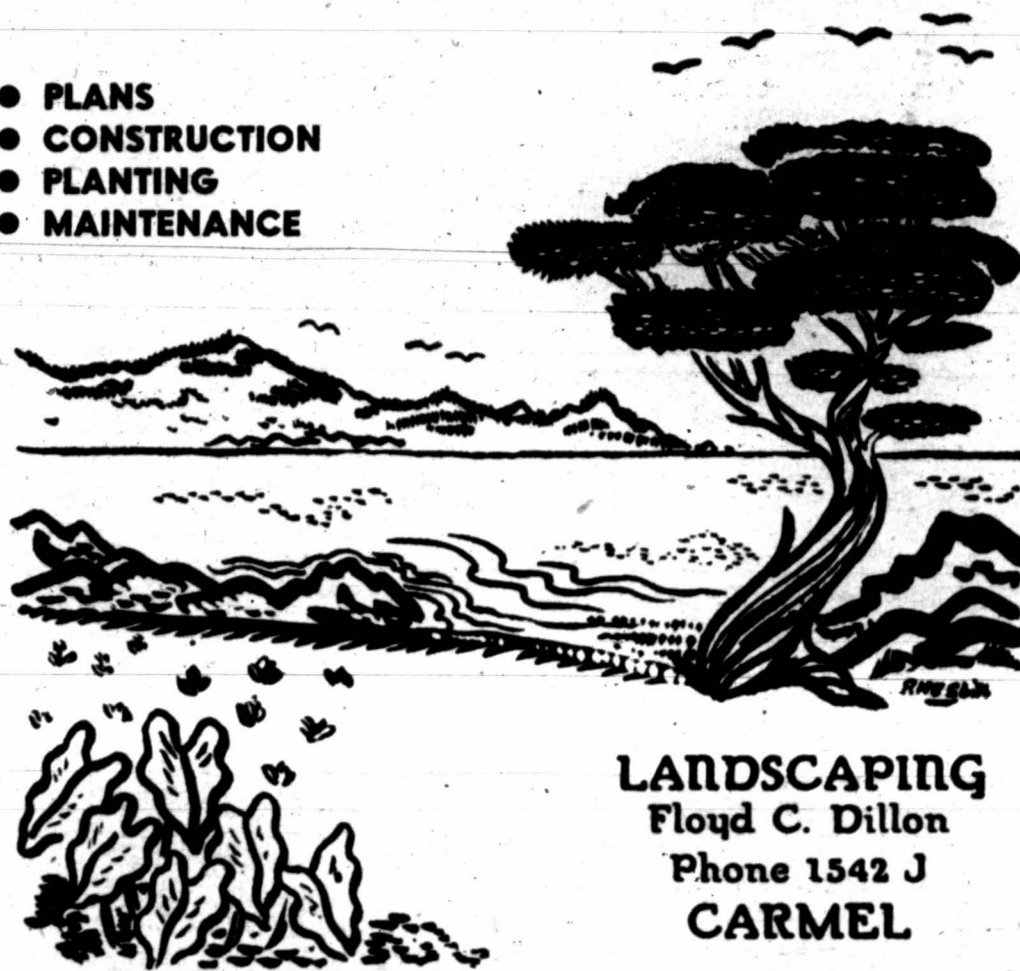

A brush fire in the Carmel Valley that extended over 700,000 acres started last Sunday afternoon and was not completely controlled until Tuesday evening. It began near the Russell ranch, near the Mathiot and Wolfman properties, and spread into Hitchcock Canyon. The flames reached as far as one of the water sheds in the canyon leading to the San Clemente Dam. From five counties 100 fire fighters assembled and only by digging trenches in the path of the blaze were they finally able to stop it.

Since the cause of the fire is unknown there are various theories advanced; deer hunters or casual smokers or trash burners are suspected of having set the spark. No farming area was damaged and no injuries were reported.
